THE MAYSVILLE GIRL.

She Carries Away the Honors at Ward Seminary, Nashville.

On Wednesday evening Ward Seminary, at Nashville, Tenn., was the scene of a grand concert in which a young lady from this city took part.

Miss Suzanne Huston Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hall of this city, fully sustained the reputation enjoyed by Maysville people abroad, as the following complimentary notice from The Nashville American will show:

AT WARD SEMINARY.

The commencement exercises of Ward Seminary opened with a brilliant concert last night given by the pupils of Miss McIlwaine. The chapel was filled with an attentive and appreciative audience, and each member was warmly applauded.

The recital was artistic and reflected the very highest credit upon the talented teacher. The program was short and showed varied taste in the selections.

The young women played with technique and feeling, and without the nervousness that is usually considered necessary of school girls' performances. It is impossible to give the just criterion to all the numbers, so delightfully were they rendered, but probably the most pleasing were given by Miss Suzanne Hall, who played Mozakwah's Spanish dance No. 3, with a great dash and brilliancy. Miss Lucy Chambers, who played Rubinstein's beautiful "Kamennoi-Ostrov" with poetic feeling, and Miss Watkins showed a clean touch and artistic execution in her rendition of Rubinstein's polka, "Boheme." The concerted numbers were very attractive and heartily applauded.

The pupils were ably assisted by Misses Beadie Evans and Martha Scruggs with the voice, and Misses Ethel Morrison and Binnie Briggs with the violin. Miss Scruggs and Miss Briggs are already great favorites before music lovers, and their vocal and violin solos were rendered with that artistic effect that always characterizes their work. Miss Evans sang "Forest Worship" with superb effect, and Miss Morrison's violin solo, "Polish Dance," deserves especial mention.

Miss McIlwaine was warmly congratulated at the conclusion of the program.

ORIGIN OF BLUEGRASS.

Not a Kentucky Product, For It Came from Indiana.

Indianapolis Journal.

"I notice by the papers that somebody in the South part of the state wants to know where Bluegrass first started," said Professor John Collett, ex state Geologist.

"A great many people contend that it was first found in Kentucky, but this is not so. Bluegrass is a native of the Wash Valley in Indiana. It was found by William Henry Harrison's troops during his solemn march to Tippecanoe, in 1811. Harrison gathered a small army at Ohio Falls, and started North. At Vincennes the gallant heroes realized that they could not go 300 miles up the Wabash without feed for their horses. General Harrison had two cribs of corn at Terre Haute, and persuaded the men to go there. As they came on, with hungry horses and scant feed, they found the ground covered with Bluegrass. Six miles West of Newport, on the Collett farm, was found a bountiful supply of the Bluegrass. Some places in the bottom it was growing three feet high, and such feed had never been heard of by the Kentucky soldiers. At State Line City more Bluegrass was found, and from there to Tippecanoe the whole line of march was covered with Bluegrass. The seed was carried back to Kentucky, and sown there, but they could not make it thrive alone

Time is kept at sea by "watches." Each watch is four hours long, and every half hour is marked off by strokes upon a bell. Thus 8:30 is one bell and 12 eight bells, 12:30 one bell, and so on.

Rev. DeWitt Talmage says: "A newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more importance in attracting attention to and building up a city or town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor will locate where there is an enterprising community. No power is so strong to attract people as a newspaper properly patronized. It always returns more than it receives."

The past April will go down in history as the driest and hottest April experienced for many years. Less than one fourth of an inch of water fell during the entire month. April showers were remarkable for absence. As a rule in the month of April about 3.50 inches of water fall in this part of the world; but last month breaks all records so far as this locality is concerned. The rain may come further along and bring the average up to the rule, but the prospects for another dry summer at this time seem to be good.

A DEATH TRAP.

An Old Building at Buffalo Collapses Without Warning.

Four Persons Are Known to Be Dead and About a Dozen Injured.

The Building Was Undergoing Extensive Repairs at the Time of the Accident—Several Men Are Reported to Have Been Killed.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 22.—A section of the Seneca street front of Brown's building collapsed at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning, burying a score of people in the ruins. George Metz, a barber, and Jennie Griffith, cashier in the barber shop, were dead; William P. Straub, a contractor, is known to be in the ruins, and a dozen others were more or less injured, one of whom will probably die.

Those at the hospital are: Jacob Langdon, barber, scalp torn and body contused; Wm. Alexander, steam fitter, scalp wound; John H. Miller, plasterer, Jacob Rickman, barber, injured about the body and head; S. J. Hawke, carpenter, skull fractured; James Adams, mason, 19 Chandel street, scalp wounds and injured hip; Michael O'Brien, carpenter, wrenched back and scalp wounds; Joseph Miller, plasterer, injured internally; Edward Murphy, plasterer, injured internally, right arm injured; Fritz Forman, German laborer, badly hurt.

Brown's building stood on the corner of Main and Seneca streets and for years the Western Union Telegraph Co. had occupied the ground floor corner. The business office and all of the fourth floor as an operating room.

The building was filled with offices, many of which were occupied, and on the ground floor on both Main and Seneca streets were stores occupied by merchants.

The Western Union left the building a few weeks ago and the owners of the block began to demolish it, and strengthening it. On the Seneca street side, workmen were engaged in putting in place new columns and beams and new foundations for the building. Numbers 8 and 10 Seneca street were occupied, the principal alterations being made at that point. No. 12 was occupied as a barber shop by George Seiser and No. 14 by James Clegg's jewelry store and Thos. Jones' newsstand. The offices on the floor above were nearly all tenanted, and altogether there were probably 50 people in the collapsed building. The fall came with a crash taking down roof and ceiling with them.

Iron columns were twisted as they had been soft wires. Heavy wooden beams were torn to pieces like paper. Pillars of brick crumbled to pieces, not strong enough to resist the strength of the weight that had fallen upon them. Here and there could be seen people who had not been caught in the falling debris, running to a place of safety. The outer wall fell into the street, burying those who had not had time to escape.

LATER—12:40 a. m.—The body of a man about 28 years old whose name is reported as DeKlerk, a laborer, was found by the searching party in the rear of the building.

THE CONFERENCE.

The beginning of the End is at Hand—The Two Bishops Will Be Consecrated Next Tuesday.

CLEVELAND, O., May 22.—Bishop Merrill presided at Thursday's session of the general conference. The beginning of the end is at hand and a motion was adopted ordering that no more memorials or resolutions be sent to committee.

The two new bishops will be consecrated next Tuesday in Central Armory. The Epworth memorial wanted the consecration services held in their church and accordingly lay out the conference there. The invitation was declined with thanks.

Rev. Dr. Morris, fraternal delegate from the church south, bid the conference good bye in a 15-minute speech. He said that the two great churches could be united.

The table which has been used by the conference of the industrial school at Venice was auctioned off for the benefit of the Venice club. John E. Kynst and W. A. Spencer were elected secretaries of the board of church extension on the first ballot. Rev. Dr. W. T. Smith, of Des Moines, was elected third secretary of the missionary society on the sixth ballot. The vote was W. T. Smith, 291; J. W. Hamilton, 203.

The report of the committee on Episcopal residences was read by Dr. Buckley. Boston and New York were made Episcopal residences. Then Cleveland was passed by.

The following is a list of the cities that will have Episcopal residences: Boston, New York, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., New Orleans or Fort Worth, Chicago, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Topeka, Minnesota, Denver, San Francisco or Los Angeles.

Thousands Witness the Triumphal Entry of the Czar and Czarina Into Moscow—The Carriage Arrives at the Kremlin—Moscow, May 22.—The czar and czarina made their triumphal entry Thursday into Moscow from the Petrovsky palace, where they have been sojourning since Monday. Two thousand cavalry furnished the military escort, and the emperor and empress rode in the gilded coaches of state which had been transferred here from St. Petersburg. At intervals of a few feet, the country road and the city streets over which the procession passed, were arched with flowers and bunting, and relays of little girls dressed in white strewed flowers immediately in front of the royal chariot. Cannon boomed incessantly, and what, with the roar of artillery, the cheering of the multitudes of spectators, the brilliant uniforms of the cavalry and of the body guard of their majesties, the scene was gorgeous and inspiring.

Upon entering the city the emperor and empress immediately proceeded to the Uspensky cathedral, in the Kremlin, where a grand Te Deum was sung and the service was performed. The celebration of the Greek mass, occupied three hours. Without any interval for refreshment the imperial party next visited the cathedral of the Holy Spirit, where they were received by the metropolitan and vestchenski cathedrals, where they received the relics and offered up prayer for the souls of the departed. The emperor and empress proceeded with the same state as in the morning to the Uspensky cathedral, where they remained until the coronation next Tuesday.

The signal for the commencement of the day's movements was a salute of nine guns from a battery outside the city. This was followed by the booming of the big bell of the Cathedral of the Assumption and the assembling of the troops at their various mustering points.

Then the countless high dignitaries of the empire and of foreign countries gathered to the Kremlin to witness the taking of their places in the gala equestrian or to escort on horseback the carriages of the imperial family, the dukes and grand duchesses, the prince and princesses, the Asiatic potentates, the innumerable representatives of every country under the sun assembled here to do honor to the czar of all the Russias, the ruler of the mighty empire which half circles the globe.

Generals with their staffs, aides-de-camp, riding at breakneck speed, or, dressed in gala uniforms, were to be seen everywhere. The clash of arms resounded on all sides and most impressive was the gathering of the hosts of the mighty empire.

At 2:30 p. m. there was a further thundering of the cannon, coming from the Kremlin, the Petrovsky palace, and that living mass of men and women gave a great shout of relief, for it was the sign that the czar had started on his journey to the Kremlin.

Eight hundred thousand people have come, some from enormous distances, to see the czar. To see him, the thousands of whom are content to camp in any open space available. They venerate the czar. If they catch a glimpse of him in the distance, and there are few of them who do more, they will be perfectly satisfied. The gilt carriages of the procession are of massive gold.

THE EDICTS

Prohibiting the Exportation of Tobacco From Cuba.

Minister Taylor Instructed to Make Vigorous Protests.

Cigar Men of Tampa Alone Have $700,000 Worth of Tobacco in Cuba—It Will Be Impossible to Get These Goods Within the Prescribed Time.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Secretary Olney has instructed Minister Taylor to make vigorous representations to the Spanish government relative to recent edicts prohibiting the exportation of tobacco from the island of Cuba on the grounds that it amounts to the practical confiscation of goods in Cuba owned by Americans. The data on hand at the state department, supplied by the collectors of the Florida ports, show that the cigar men of Tampa alone have $700,000 worth of tobacco in Cuba paid for and subject to delivery, and that for all the Florida ports there is as much more. It will be impossible for the merchants to get this property out of Cuba within the prescribed time, and Minister Taylor has been instructed to make such representations to Spain as will secure ample time in which to secure this property. It is believed that the tone of Mr. Olney's note will accomplish this result.

If it is not, other means will be taken. The Spanish government professes that this action is taken in order that Cubans loyal to the government in Havana, engaged in the cigar business, may have the leaf to work with, and that hostility to the United States might be done with impunity. A resolution has been prepared and if within a few days the state department does not hear satisfactorily upon its protest, the resolution will be passed. It will give the president authority to prohibit, by proclamation, the importation of United States cigars, and other manufactured tobacco from the island of Cuba. Inasmuch as the greater part of the Cuban cigars are exported to this country, the law will effectively offset the action taken under the edict of the captain general.

The reason why it has not been brought forward until it is apparent that Spain intends to harass the United States and make it impossible for her citizens to get the property from the island for which they have paid.

The Hudson turned back from Liverpool, there not being enough water.

The Clara Cavett handled her trip to Pittsburgh.

An aluminum boat for sportsmen's use has been made; it weighs but thirty pounds, is fourteen feet long and will carry two people.

The Courier-Journal very aptly remarks: "Let the snagboat Woodruff go to work, or else swan her off for a baseball club and then kill the club."

The Courier on her up trip yesterday morning met with an accident just below the first bend that caused considerable delay. The Silver Ware brought her freight to this city.

At Hinton on New river there was a rainfall of 1.55, and the Great Kanawha is rising and will continue from heavy rains in the Virginias. At Pittsburgh there is a stage of 6.1, with 3.5 below Davis Island Dam and 3.8 at Wheeling. There is a 5-foot stage at Parkersburg, Cattsburg and Portsmouth and 4.9 at Charleston.

Pittsburgh coal operators have about 10,000,000 bushels loaded in the harbor and pools, most of it in coalsacks. A large percentage of the lowboats have reached there and laid up. Shippers to Southern markets have about suspended work at the mines, and many of the larger tipples along the Monongahela are idle.

Commodore Wash Honsell, the veteran boatman and for many years at the head of the Big Sandy Packet Company when it was at its zenith and one of its projects, has been quite ill for a long period at his home in Cattsburg. He is suffering from a disease of the kidneys, and with his advanced years his condition has become alarming to his many friends.

A new law of the Government requires all vessels in the mail service of Uncle Sam to float the regulation colors when in port and at other times when the weather conditions will permit it. The mail flag is a beauty, having a solid red field, with a blue border all around and the American eagle in full flight carrying the American shield in its claws is also of blue, while in large white letters clear across the field are the words "United States Mail." The flag must be eighteen feet long and fifteen wide, proportioned after the pattern of old Glory. Only steamers that carry the mail are permitted to float these flags.

A New Yorker Meets Taught How To Make Mint Juleps.

New York Sun.

The time has arrived for the annual summer contention on the part of visiting Southerners that bartenders in New York cannot master the mysteries of a mint julep, and that their concoctions only faintly resemble those put together in the South. Perhaps a mint julep may not taste as pleasing when drunk in a marble barroom in New York as when sipped on a Southern veranda, but New York has several experts in this line, and they declare that their mint juleps are the best that can be made. Several years ago, when Colonel Bullitt of Kentucky was in New York on his bridal trip, he stayed at a New York hotel that had just been opened. The Colonel called for a mint julep, and the result shocked him. The bartender pounded the mint in the glass and otherwise mutilated the Colonel's favorite drink.

"I have been drinking juleps for nearly half a century," said the gallant Colonel, "and I never tasted anything like that." Then he taught the bartender how to mix one, and with a little coaching his pupil became an expert. This hotel is now celebrated for its mint juleps. The demand for mint for bars has steadily increased in New York. The gin rickey, however, has run the mint julep a close race for the past two summers, and last year the demand for this drink was no large that several times during the season the supply of limes gave out.

The people of New York drink 5,000,000 gallons of whisky a year.

The deepest British coal mine is the Ashton Moss colliery, which goes down 3,150 feet.

If a well could be dug to a depth of 46 miles, the air at the bottom would be as dense as quicksilver.

It costs four times as much to govern American cities as is spent for the same purpose in Great Britain.

A train runs now between Paris and St. Petersburg in forty-eight hours, the only change of cars being at the Russian frontier.

It would be interesting to know what would be considered proof of guilt in Oregon. Mo. A girl who confessed that she poisoned her father has been officially declared innocent.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use each in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. How to Treat a Wife.

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business but do not, therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, and harder to bear than yours. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom. To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by J. James Wood, Druggist.
